ACCE in partnership with Markham Board of Trade

Join with members of ACCE and Markham Board of Trade to learn from experts, build contacts, get referrals and grow your business.

Topic: Make Your Presence Known

Personal presence is one of the most valuable selling tools that you have – and you control it! Whether you are selling a product or idea in social networking events or delivering formal presentations, your presence will have a powerful influence on how successful you are.

Personal communication style and some basic principles of effective presentations will be discussed at this session. We will explore ways of leaving a lasting impression on people you meet.

Speaker: Brian Brennan, the President of MAX Potential is an expert facilitator and accomplished public speaker. He is also known as an expert with business problem solving, developing and implementing successful strategic business plans focused on profit generation and ROI growth.

He regularly presents workshops designed to enhance individual and team effectiveness including enhancing presentation skills of participants. Brian believes that creating a memorable and favourable impression of ones self is a core skill that everyone should work to improve.”
