

The year 2011 is a very special year to ACCE as it marks the 15th Anniversary of our main signature event, the Chinese Canadian Entrepreneur Awards Gala. This year's Gala was held on April 2, 2011 at Hilton Suites in Markham, and it was a spectacular success. I wish to thank all the members of the Gala Committee who worked relentlessly throughout the year to plan every little detail to perfection. The giant trophy replicas at the entrance of the hall and on stage were fitting tributes to the achievements of our past winners, the creativity of entrepreneurs, and the dedication of the ACCE volunteers. The Cathay Pacific picture booth was greeted with enthusiasm and provided many guests with memorable souvenirs of the evening. The storied history of ACCE was presented by a special retrospect film aptly named "A Dragon Coming of Age", which detailed the evolution and accomplishments of ACCE since its inception. The film revisited the speeches delivered by the many distinguished speakers of past Galas, like the Right Honourable Stephen Harper (Prime Minister of Canada), Michael Lee-Chin (Chairman and CEO of AIC Limited), Martin Glynn (President & CEO of HSBC Bank Canada), Ed Mirvish (President & CEO of Honest Ed), Bruce Birmingham (President of ScotiaBank), and John Wetmore (President & CEO of IBM Canada Ltd.), just to name a few. The special anniversary Gala was also celebrated by the first presentation of the ACCE Anthem, which was greeted with great applause for its originality and creativity. This year's crop of award winners include Wally Mah of North Ridge Development Corporation from Saskatchewan, and Joshua Huen of Dr. Battery International Group from British Columbia; who received the Entrepreneur of the Year Award and the Best Asia-Pacific Business Award, respectively. These two winners truly signify the fact that ACCE has become a national business association attracting nominations and winners from coast to coast. At the climax of the evening, the former Governor General, the Right Honorable Madame Adrienne Clarkson, was announced as the recipient of the 2011 ACCE Lifetime Achievement Award.

Message from the President

Another signature event, the ACCE Business Forum sponsored by ScotiaBank, was held on May 14, 2011 at the North York Civic Center. The Forum featured an economic forecast delivered by Warren Jestin, the Chief Economist from ScotiaBank, and attracted a diverse audience with the common objective of exploring entrepreneur opportunities and to learn from the success stories of the ACCE award winners. A special breakout session was conducted in Mandarin to ensure the audience can benefit from the tips of successful Chinese Canadian entrepreneurs in their native language. Other topics presented in various break-out sessions include: financing, taxation, marketing, doing business with Wal-Mart and the Government.

More recently, numerous past ACCE award winners took time from their busy schedules to attend an exclusive Winners Club gathering sponsored by BDC on June 7, 2011. These Winners Club events are the platform for relationship-building amongst the past winners from 1997 to 2011. A memorable moment of the evening was when Dr. Songnian Zhou of Platform Computing, winner of the 1997 Entrepreneur of the Year, shared a humorous story with the guests.

The generous support of our sponsors and the hard work of our volunteers are critical ingredients to the success of ACCE. ACCE is truly fortunate to have their assistance, collaboration, and partnership. In order for the ACCE Board of Directors and Advisors to express our thanks to the sponsors and volunteers, an Appreciation Dinner was held on June 16, 2011. In addition, I wish to personally express my deepest gratitude to all the supporters and partners of ACCE.

Looking ahead, we will have our Golf Classic Tournament on July 12, 2011 at Angus Glen Golf Course, and the Annual General Meeting will be held in September. In addition, the first ACCE event in the West Coast will take place in the Fall. It is evident that ACCE will continue to flourish under our mandate to recognize the contributions and accomplishments of Chinese Canadian entrepreneurs and to promote the spirit of social responsibility. Together, we will make ACCE a leading national business association. This is just the beginning of another new chapter. Stay tuned for more exciting developments and events in the months ahead.

Lifetime Achievement Award The Right Honourable Adrienne Clarkson

Adrienne Clarkson was born in Hong Kong in 1939. She came to Canada as a refugee with her parents William and Ethel Poy in 1942. They settled in Ottawa, Ontario where she attended public school. She went on to attend the University of Toronto's Trinity College where she obtained an honours B.A. in English Literature and later, completed her Master Degree in Arts. Madame Clarkson, also did post graduate work at the Sorbonne in France and became fluently bilingual.

Madame Clarkson is probably best known to millions as a broadcast journalist, having worked at the CBC as host writer and producer of several influential programs which included: Take Thirty, Adrienne at Large, and the Fifth Estate. An eminent writer, she has authored 5 books and contributed numerous articles to major publications throughout Canada.

Madame Clarkson has also held very distinguished posts having served as the President of McClelland Stewart in the late 80's, and serving as the first agent general for Ontario in Paris from 1982 to 1987 promoting Ontario's business and cultural interests in France, Italy and Spain. Since her term, Ontario and Canada can lay legitimate claim to having a permanent presence in the cultural life of Paris.

Her love of the arts and culture has garnered her many accolades including that as Chairwoman to the Board of Trustees for the Museum of Civilization in Hull Quebec and President of the Executive Board of the International Music Centre. In 1991, she also chaired the jury for the Banff Television Festival in Alberta and her work has been recognized with dozens of awards in Canada as well as the U.S. and Europe. Perhaps her most distinguished post to date was that of Governor General for Canada. Madame Clarkson was sworn in as the 26th Governor General on October 7, 1999. Her tenure as Governor General gave her an opportunity to promote the country she loved. She actively promoted tolerance, acceptance, belonging and public responsibility.

Since leaving the office of Governor General, Adrienne Clarkson has founded the Institute for Canadian Citizenship and chaired it with her Husband, John Ralston Saul. The institute's purpose is to help new Canadians adapt to the culture and fit into mainstream Canadian life through special initiatives such as community citizenship ceremonies, cultural vouchers to introduce new citizens to cultural activities and museums and, a program to increase the public awareness of Canada's wilderness parks.

Mr. Alan Kwong, President of ACCE, and Mr. John Man, VP, Asian Commercial Financial Services of RBC presented the Lifetime Achievement Award to Madame Adrienne Clarkson.

There is no doubt, that Madame Clarkson's contributions have made Canada a better place. Her relentless pursuit for a better future for all Canadians exemplifies the Chinese Philosophy "The world is shared by all of us".

Best International Business Award Mr. Carl Teo, EcoCarrier Inc.

EcoCarrier was established in 1997, and is a licensed carrier and provider of services for fixed and mobile telephone and mobile roaming voice, text and data communications. The company, based out of Markham, Ontario, employs 26 people and an additional 10 who work as contractors in the company's international offices in Mexico, Morocco, Kenya and United Arab Emirates.

Part of EcoCarrier's success lies within its management structure. The company's operations are entirely internet-based, including administration, sales, marketing, product management, customer support, technical services, e-commerce and product development. Its personnel are highly skilled and multi-lingual, offering service in some 12 different languages to clients across time zones via online communications such as MSN, Yahoo and Skype.

Like its name, the company is eco-friendly and is taking steps to become "greener" by making communication

EcoCarrier has achieved a wonderful reputation in the internet community as a leader in pay-per-use telephone service and mobile roaming service with singular functional features, which make the services easier and more convenient for users. Today, the company has more than 300 resellers catering to more than 2 million customers in 85 countries worldwide.

Best Start-up Award

Mr. Vincent Cheung, Shape Collage

Cheung recognized that the proliferation of digital cameras was making it tedious and somewhat confusing for most people when they try to display their pictures. He also discovered that after people downloaded the images to their computer, they were filed away and forgotten, never to be seen or enjoyed again. So he developed a process to help people enjoy their photos again.

A graduate of the University of Toronto's computer engineering program, Cheung designed a computer program layered with mathematical formulas that allows users to quickly upload many pictures, and immediately turn them into a collage of any shape. In the beginning, he made his program available on his website to share with others free of charge. But when people started donating money to express their appreciation for his program, he realized he had stumbled onto something very unique. He soon started to actively promote his product on the internet, and it quickly generated a lot of buzz.

Since its launch in March 2009, Shape Collage has been translated into more than 20 languages and has been downloaded more than 3.3 million times. The program is being used in more than 200 countries worldwide, attracting international businesses who want to form partnerships with Shape Collage. In fact, the largest on-line photo printing company in Europe, Photobox, has entered into a licensing agreement with Shape Collage.

He is a true inventor and pioneer in the digital world. Please join us in congratulating Vincent Cheung and Shape Collage as the Best Start-up Company for 2011!
