

Ian Rosen is the VP of Digital & Strategy at Harry Rosen, responsible for extending relationships with customers onto digital channels and enhancing the shopping experience with technology (both online and in-store). He is also responsible for developing corporate strategy to drive future growth.

Ian marks the third generation of Rosen's to join the company his Grandfather Harry started with his brother Lou in 1954 on Toronto's Parliament Street. His father (and CEO) Larry Rosen has grown the company over the past 20 years.

Prior to joining Harry Rosen, Ian was a Management Consultant at Bain & Company in Chicago where he focused on Strategy, Retail and Digital projects. Ian holds both an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management and an HBA from Ivey Business School.