

Special Guest Panelist...

Angad Sandhu

Angad is an accomplished & resourceful entrepreneur & angel-investor (in 10 startups) with a diverse experience in driving strategy, piloting innovation & leading from the front. He has also designed, planned, & implemented the overall marketing strategy, sales philosophy & commercialization approach, for technical & consumer-goods companies in the AMER, EU & APAC regions. He has an extensive portfolio of success by leading supply chain teams, nurturing & growing key customer accounts, & securing high deals. He has a wealth of achievements in start-up, turn-around, & business-expansion environments with expertise in robotics, medtech/life-science, deep-tech, digital, SaaS, IT & complex-engineering projects. His company has multiple lines of business including, consumer goods (spices, herbs, seasonings), nicotine products, real estate investments & small scale construction. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering (University of California Santa Barbara), Cornell Executive Management Certificate (Cornell University) & a Master of Business, Entrepreneurship & Technology MBET (University of Waterloo).