

Message from the President

Summer is upon us once again, and there has been much to talk about here at ACCE since the spring edition of Entrepreneur News.

First and foremost, the 25th ACCE Awards Gala, held on April 23, 2022, at the Metro Toronto Convention Centre, was a tremendous success. Our first in-person Awards Gala since the pandemic attracted over 600 guests, including prominent political, business and community leaders. I extend heartfelt congratulations to this year's impressive group of award winners, who were chosen from an abundant pool of extremely high-calibre nominees from coast to coast. I especially wish to congratulate and acknowledge Ms. Brigitte Shim, the recipient of the 2022 ACCE Lifetime Achievement Award.

Kevin Au-Yeung, President

Seven of the newly minted 2022 award winners shared their success stories and knowledge at the ACCE Business Forum, sponsored by National Bank. Over 200 guests were in attendance on June 4, 2022, at the Marriott Toronto Northeast in Markham for this event, and all richly benefited from the panel discussion and exhibits. I also wish to thank TELUS for being the Venue Sponsor, as well as our Community Partners, Markham Board of Trade and CICS Foundation.

We then got to know the award winners more personally at a Winners' Club dinner at The School Fine Dining in Markham on June 9, 2022. They joined winners from the previous 24 award galas for an evening of great networking and sharing insights. I wish to thank BDC for being the title sponsor of the ACCE Awards and of this Winners' Club event.

With the resumption of in-person events, the ACCE Annual Golf Classic will be back on June 29, 2022, at the beautiful Angus Glen Golf and Country Club. In recognition of the 25th anniversary of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region government, this year's Golf Classic will be sponsored by the Hong Kong Economic and Trade Office in Toronto, and the winners of the tournament will be awarded the Hong Kong Cup.

We are so excited to announce that we will also resume in-person events in the Greater Vancouver Area. On October 5, 2022, we will host our tenth West Coast Gala at the Fairmont Waterfront Hotel in Vancouver. I cannot wait to reconnect in person with all our great friends on the West Coast.

Of course, none of these events would be possible without the assistance of our valued stakeholders, including our sponsors, members, volunteers, staff, various levels of government and the media. I wish to thank everyone for their continuous support.

I wish everyone a very safe and enjoyable summer, and I look forward to seeing you at the next ACCE event.

Lifetime Achievement Award

Brigitte Shim, Shim-Sutcliffe Architects

Brigitte Shim is an architect, educator and unwavering advocate for design excellence. She and A. Howard Sutcliffe are the founding partners of Shim-Sutcliffe Architects, one of Canada's most innovative architectural practices, with an international reputation for masterful designs bringing together the elements of landscape, interiors, lighting and hardware.

Universally respected by architects, academics, students, and the general public, their work continually opens people's eyes to the beauty of architecture and how it resonates with nature. Their designs and structures explore the potential of natural light and its connection to the spiritual.

Brigitte hails from Jamaica and immigrated to Toronto, Canada, in 1965 with her parents. She later attended the University of Waterloo's School of Architecture.

Today, Brigitte is also a professor at the John H. Daniels Faculty of Architecture, Landscape, and Design at the University of Toronto and is committed to educating the next generation of architects.

Her design studios always challenge her students to address issues that shape the future of our cities and environment. She has also been a visiting professor at many other renowned schools of architecture.

For several decades, Brigitte has generously given her time and energy to serving on many local, national and international design juries. She is on the advisory board for BEAT in Toronto, where she advocates for diversity and equity in the profession of architecture. She also serves on the Master Jury and subsequent steering committees for the Aga Khan Award for Architecture, a program celebrating outstanding global architecture.

To date, Brigitte and Howard have received sixteen Governor General's Medals for Architecture from the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada and an American Institute of Architects National Honor Award.

Rebecca Pang, Vice President, Commercial Financial Services, RBC Royal Bank, presented the Lifetime Achievement Award to Brigitte Shim, Shim-Sutcliffe Architects.

In January 2013, Brigitte and Howard were awarded the Order of Canada "for their contributions as architects designing sophisticated structures that represent the best of Canadian design to the world." And in 2021, they were awarded the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada's Gold Medal, its highest honour.

Entrepreneur of the Year Award

Daniel Wang and Oscar Fan, Advanced Skyline Technology Ltd.

Mahmood Lalani, Senior Manager, Business Banking, TD Bank presented the Entrepreneur of the Year Award to Oscar Fan, Advanced Skyline Technology Ltd.

Oscar Fan and Daniel Wang wanted to make a difference in the world of computer technology waste. In 2005, they established Advanced Skyline Technology (AST) to do just that.

A large number of computers are assigned to electronic waste prematurely and then shipped overseas to third-world countries and disposed of improperly due to high costs.

AST developed a cost-effective, high-quality, innovative refurbishing technology with a high degree of automation, working with leading brands and making quality, refurbished, branded computers for low-budget businesses and users, such as schools, start-ups and lower-income families.

Since its inception, AST has become North America's most competitive refurbished computer enterprise, with facilities in Canada and China. And with its continual growth, AST has been awarded the prestigious status of a Microsoft Gold Certified Partner.

AST also contributes to reducing our carbon footprint by lengthening the computer lifecycle, making it eligible to generate revenue-earning carbon credits.

It is also giving back to the community by donating refurbished computers to the Toronto District School Board and other Ontario school boards. During the pandemic, it donated five ambulance vehicles to Wuhan, China. AST regularly participates in various internship programs and hires co-op students to develop the next generation.

Best International Business Award John Li, Sinobec Group Inc.

John Li has turned a one-man trading business into a multi-national corporation. He started working out of his basement, and today, his company, Sinobec Group, has made hundreds of millions in revenue dealing with green energy segments all over the world.

Before immigrating to Canada, John worked for China metals and minerals group. With more than 30 years' experience, he has grown his company rapidly across the world. Sinobec Group can efficiently supply a breadth of aluminum products to clients in various industries, including aviation, automobiles, marine, construction and green energy. It now has operations on four continents and employs over 300 people worldwide, providing services to hundreds in Canada, China, Costa Rica, Germany, Indonesia, Turkey and the U.S.A., to name just a few.

Under his leadership, Sinobec Group Inc. was named one of Canada's Fastest-Growing Companies by Canadian Business magazine for two years in a row, 2019 and 2020. He also serves on the board of directors of the Canadian Chinese Entrepreneurs Council (CCEC). In addition, Sinobec Group Inc. was named the most influential Chinese Canadian-owned company in Quebec by CCEC in 2019.

Robert Trudeau, Senior Director, Global Corporate Sales & Quebec Market, Air Canada, presented the Best International Business Award to Judy Niu on behalf of John Li, Sinobec Group Inc.

Best Asia Pacific Business Award Aaron Chin, Organika

Aaron Chin, the CEO of Organika Health Products, is a second-generation entrepreneur dedicated to expanding the company's mission to help people "Fall in Love with Living Healthy."

His father launched Organika in 1990, selling nutritional supplements from the back of his van. When Aaron grabbed the reins a few years ago with his brother Jordan, who serves as COO, the company had hit annual revenues of up to $8 million.

The success of Organika was largely based on its sale of supplements. But to keep up with the ever-changing times, Aaron and his brother expanded Organika's product line to include more superfoods, protein powders and bone broths.

Organika employs a team of 140 and continues to do its own manufacturing in an effort to be more cost effective, bringing in more than $70 million in sales last year.

With the explosion of Asia's health product market, the company has been using Hong Kong as its gateway to Asia, shipping about 10% of its products to the territory. With an eye to further penetrating markets outside Canada, Aaron is aiming for $100 million in revenue in the next few years.

Emily Mo, Director, Hong Kong Economic Trade Office in Toronto, presented the Best Asia Pacific Business Award to Aaron Chin, Organika.

With a background as an engineer and a developer, Edward Wang is the COO and co-founder of Jarvis Consulting Group. The group has created and adopted a unique model of spotting and recruiting high-potential talent for major employers. The company prepares them with both technical and soft skills to fit the needs and requirements of the client. This provides an invaluable service to clients.

Following Edward's vision, Jarvis Consulting Group is a total talent solutions provider with ongoing partnerships across North America's top financial institutions, cutting-edge start-ups and major technology companies. It works with thousands of individuals and organizations worldwide. The company has grown to nearly 200 people under Edward's leadership.

Roi Ross, Vice President of TELUS, presented the Most Innovative Award to Timothy Szeto, Titan Haptics Inc.

Tony Lu arrived in Canada from China in 1999. In 2017, Tony and business partner Shane Hastings formed Hastings Utilities Contracting. The company has become an industry leader in street light maintenance, overhead and underground power distribution, electrical and civil construction, and emergency response and design.

The Toronto-based company works across the Greater Toronto Area and performs power restoration throughout North America.

As climate change brings unpredictable weather patterns to the continent and disrupts infrastructure, Hastings is perfectly placed to provide exceptional service to its ever-growing client base.

Tania Lai, Account Manager, Ming Pao Newspapers (Canada) Ltd., presented the Best Community Service Award to Yvonne Chan, Santé Circle Health.

Young Entrepreneur Award

Edward Wang, Jarvis Consulting Group

Jarvis Consulting Group has long been a strong advocate of the benefits of diversity, inclusion and social mobility. Jarvis has made sure the people in its employ represent the communities in which they serve.

As an exemplary corporate citizen, Jarvis Consulting gives back to the community. Edward and Jarvis Consulting support local charities, hosting community events and paying it forward as much as they can. His company has impacted more than 3500 lives.

Most Innovative Award

Timothy Szeto, Titan Haptics Inc.

Titan Haptics' motor technology has created an all-new category of haptic motor. The motor offers a competitive advantage among consumer technology companies. It gives designers, app developers and game creators more opportunities to explore and develop new tactile experiences for end users.

The company's development will have a significant impact in the gaming, virtual reality, augmented reality and entertainment markets in the coming years. This technology gives consumers a "tactile" experience, adding a unique quality to these industries – what developers call the "feeling" side of the metaverse.

Most Progressive Award

Tony Lu, Hastings Utilities Contracting Ltd.

With 90 employees and a portfolio that includes major providers Rogers, Bell, the City of Toronto, the Toronto Transit Commission, EllisDon and Bruce Power, Hastings is aiming to double its revenue in the next five years.

To compete, the company built a modern fleet that includes specialty live-line equipment that provides uninterrupted service on time and on budget.

As a leading player in the utilities contracting business, Hastings has a commitment to protecting the environment and providing quality customer service. It pursues sustainable relationships with Indigenous communities that live in proximity to its business activities, and its core values include integrity, honesty and respect.

Best Community Service Award

Yvonne Chan, Santé Circle Health

After having a serious accident at the age of 16, Yvonne Chan had a poor healthcare experience with her surgeons and physiotherapists. As a result, she decided to become a physiotherapist herself to provide better care to others.

Her national healthcare company, Santé Circle Health, provides occupational health and disability management services, and she has grown her reputation to become an industry-recognized expert in absence and disability management.

Yvonne has continuously given back to the community. Her national health programs are very inclusive, and her company has made commendable progress in including Indigenous care services. From 2014 to 2017, Yvonne was Tarek Naguib, Vice-President, Retail Financing Solutions, National Bank of Canada, presented the Young Entrepreneur Award to Edward Wang, Jarvis Consulting Group.

Let us hear what other people have to say about this technology:

"The Linear Magnetic Ram technology developed by Titan Haptics represents a new paradigm in high-definition haptic feedback, and we look forward to supporting Titan Haptics' successful application of this technology to mobile devices," said Chris Ullrich, CTO of Immersion.

"This will change how video games are made and played," said Alex Garden, President of Xbox Studios.

Titan Haptics Inc.'s truly unique development of tactile technology expands the potential of the world of gaming.

Scott Gamble, Senior Vice President for Toronto Region, Scotiabank, presented the Most Progressive Award to Tony Lu, Hastings Utilities Contracting Ltd.

part of the medical team for Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development Canada, helping assess injuries of Indian residential school survivors.

Her understanding of reconciliation continued to develop, and today, she works with the organization Okimaw to develop Indigenous care services across Canada.

Yvonne believes in and exemplifies servant leadership. She is the president of the Toronto Chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization and volunteers at Nonnina's Table, providing nourishment to members of the downtown Toronto community. She has a long history of serving the Chinese community in Scarborough and has contributed to improving rehabilitation care in Ontario.

Best Start-up Award

Raymond Chik, Untether AI

Untether AI was developed by Martin Snelgrove, Darrick Wiebe and Raymond Chik in 2018. Untether AI's vision was to make AI processes run faster and cooler. Untether AI's at-memory compute architecture breaks through the computational bottleneck in AI efficiency.

The increased use of AI – along with its heavy computational needs and advanced hardware requirements – poses a challenge for traditional datacenter compute architectures.

Untether AI is creating an ultra-efficient neural processor which will allow small mobile devices (such as AR headsets and wearables) to carry out powerful inference operations (for example, machine vision and speech recognition capabilities).

Its chip technology can be used in a variety of spaces, including banking and financial services, natural language processing, autonomous vehicles, industrial robotics, smart cities, retail and other applications that require high-throughput and low-latency AI acceleration.

Untether AI may be setting a new bar in power efficiency, inference performance and latency of chip design, and it may offer significant opportunities in performance-demanding applications, particularly in self-driving vehicles and other automated operations.

Sharon Zhu, Market Vice President, Business Banking of CIBC, presented the Best Start-up Award to Raymond Chik, Untether AI.
